

BIO

Diana Rogers Jaeger, APR, M.Ed. is founder of Love To Appreciate Consulting and a full-time believer in the power of culture to drive, purpose, performance and profit.

As a speaker, consultant and employee engagement strategist, Diana is a trusted advisor to clients in the areas of employee engagement, organizational culture, and authentic appreciation. She coaches individuals and teams on how to lead with culture in order to outperform the competition, and she develops workplace cultures that lead to higher employee morale, productivity, and retention. She is also a certified facilitator of the 5 Languages of Appreciation in the Workplace and trains groups to show appreciation in ways that are both meaningful and effective.

Diana's clients benefit from her results-driven personality, her more than 13 years of experience, and her Master's degree in adult and continuing education from the University of Oklahoma. She is a graduate of Leadership Oklahoma City's Signature Class 35 and LOYAL Class I and a recipient of the OKC Biz Forty Under 40 Award and the Journal Record Achievers Under 40 Award. She serves Girl Scouts Western Oklahoma as a longtime volunteer and board member and is currently helping build the organization's Urban Camp & STEM Center. In her free time, Diana enjoys camping and hiking with her husband, Kevin, and two young sons, Aiden and Axl.
